MY BROTHER

My brother's name is Gopal Kumar Thakur. He is 6 years old. He is 3 years younger than me. I love him a lot. We play together. Mostly we wear same clothes.

Poem on "NATURE"

There used to be forests she sang to me.
Forests that spread Take an ocean of trees. And I asked,
But what is this ocean? and what are trees? Then she sank, crying, to her knees.

Poem on LOCKDOWN

"Lockdown announced" No, lockdowns aren't new remember? You took me to a locked room, in a tiny, unbreathable space, tried to molest me. I lay in that dark room, out of breath, moribund, I was locked in that room of death, mutilated, smashed, and shattered hands tied back, bleeding skull, eyes were sore, I still remember the barbarity. It still haunts me now. Tragedy still locked away in my screeching soul. Tell me, wasn't it a lockdown?
Wasn't it a lockdown?

Dear MSD

You did it. You did it silently, without any speculations,
without any media outrage,
without a press conference,
without a farewell
match. As they say, depopulated.

CHALKIE BENEDECTION

Ms. Akansha Rajput

The children we teach may not remember us when they get older, but they will remember that part of ours which gave them hope and love and taught them to believe in themselves.

I call my students "my kids" because they are not just kids on my class list they have become a part of my heart. GO MY KIDS - GO AND BECOME A SHINING STAR ALL THE BEST !

Ms. Neha Bhardwaj

Remote learning is normal now a days due to pandemic. I know the hardest part of remote learning is that we are apart and not able to meet physically. I just want my students to know that though we are apart but we are still together through technology.

Mrs. Monika Gulati

In this pandemic time, the online classes were the only option for us. It was a big challenge for us to teach in virtual classrooms. But I am glad that we accepted this challenge and adopted the online teaching techniques and strategies to keep our students engaged in a joyful learning environment.

Mrs. Megha Bhalla

Students of today face a world that continually demands new knowledge and abilities, a world that requires the students to become adaptable, life long lessons in an ever-changing scenario of new skills and competencies. They also need to be good communicators, be able to relate well with other people and to think creatively.

Mrs. Poonam Malhotra

The schools today have a tremendous job of nurturing the little minds of our future citizens. In these times when every nation is talking about Corona pandemic, it is important to look at the optimistic side of everything.

My advice to all my lovely kids is to keep a big smile - one size that fits for all.
